

YANK SOLDIERS DRIVE VILLA AWAY FROM JUAREZ

Americans Cross Border To Stop
Mexican Rebels From Firing Into El Paso.

(By Associated Press)
Juarez, June 16—Villa troops, driven from Juarez early today by United States infantrymen sent across the border just before midnight to stop the firing into El Paso by the Mexican rebels, are fleeing southeast of Juarez. They are headed for Guadalupe, opposite Fabens, Texas, 32 miles from here. United States cavalry are in close pursuit.

Meanwhile the city itself is in control of the 24th (negro) United States infantry. It is estimated that 200 Villa rebels were killed during the engagement last night and 20 wounded. The American casualties include one killed by a sniper and four others wounded.

The American infantry, however, was withdrawn before noon on orders from Major General Cabell, after a conference with Mexican authorities. The infantry spent 11 hours on Mexican soil.

Cavalry In Pursuit.

El Paso, June 16—Bulletin—American artillery could be seen firing shrapnel at the fleeing Villistas eight miles from Juarez this forenoon. Meanwhile American cavalry hotly is pursuing the band which is desperately endeavoring to reach the mountains. The action could be seen from the river here.

No Reason For Trouble

Washington, June 16—Secretary Baker said today that there can be no misunderstanding between the governments of the United States and Mexico regarding the movement of troops across the border at El Paso. The sole purpose, he said, was the protection of the American side of the border and there is a distinct understanding between both governments for such action.

Baker Insists On 509,000 Army

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 16—Secretary Baker today appeared before the Senate Military Committee and insisted upon an army of 509,000 men until a permanent military policy is adopted. He declared 300,000 men as the annual army appropriation bill provided are inadequate. He asserted in addition to the army of occupation in Germany a force must be maintained on the Mexican border.

M. F. ARBUCKLE BUYS GEO. W. BALLEW HOUSE

The George W. Ballew home on Lancaster avenue, formerly known as the Judge Lilly place, was sold at public sale Saturday to M. F. Arbuckle, of the Silver Creek section, for $7,500. The home is an attractive two-story frame building, and was sold by the heirs of the late owner, to settle up his estate. Mr. Arbuckle will get possession at once, it is understood, and will move to town to make that his home.

BARNES WILL PIKE GETS TARVIA FIRST

Road Will Be Closed a Few Days
As Far As Pond Church, Beginning Wednesday.

The Barnes Mill pike for two miles out of Richmond is being swept Monday, preparatory to having the tarvia treatment applied on Wednesday. The pike will be closed to traffic for several days beginning Wednesday as the road tar that is used for this method of improving roads is said to play havoc with vehicles. County Road Engineer Baxter has issued a notice to all who live in that section of the county to use the Goggins Lane road out to the Tate's Creek pike or the Kirksville road to the Lancaster pike, if they are compelled to come to town before the road tar dries thoroughly.

The big machine with which tarvia is applied came in Saturday and was taken out to the Barnes Mill pike Monday morning by the contractor who will do the work. Unless weather conditions should seriously interfere, the Barnes Mill pike will be in shape for use again by the latter part of the week. It will be closed only as far as the Pond Christian church, so that those living beyond that church will have little trouble in getting in or out. People within the section closed may be inconvenienced for a day or so but they will have the advantage of driving over the best roadway in this section of the state, after the roadway is finished. As soon as the Barnes Mill pike's two miles are completed, the tarvia will be applied to the other pikes coming into Richmond as rapidly as possible, each being closed in turn until the tar is thoroughly dried.

Gave Information To Enemy

The story of Private Perlmutter, an American soldier in the occupation army, who has been sentenced by court-martial to twenty years at hard labor for giving information to the enemy, rivals the most imaginative war fiction. Perlmutter, after release from a German prison, re-joined the American army and volunteered in the occupation army to be near a German girl. He was later seen by a former fellow prisoner, who caused his arrest. The trial was sensational.

NEVILLE MOBERLY BUYS ATTRACTIVE HOME SITE

One of the most notable deals in Madison county real estate was consummated early this week when J. J. Neale sold 20 acres of his "Fairview" farm to S. Neville Moberly at $500 an acre. It is understood that Mr. Moberly will erect a very handsome and commodious suburban residence on the site, which is an ideal one. The ground is the very finest, blue grass soil, and the location will make Mr. Moberly a beautiful home in every way.

PATRONS DESERVE BEST SERVICE

From Telephone Company and Question Will Come Before
City Council Tuesday.

The City Council will meet in special session Tuesday for the purpose of further considering an ordinance introduced at the last regular meeting night, requiring that telephone and lighting and power poles be placed underground and that poles be removed from the main business streets of the city, before the new sewers are laid and paving of the streets begins.

At the same time it is understood that officials of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company will be here to submit a proposition to the city with respect to installation of a central energy system, which being interpreted, means the system by which each telephone becomes a "self starter" with no turning of the crank necessary to get "Central." Practically every city the size of Richmond in the state has this system, which is regarded as a great improvement on the old style method. There seems to be a popular demand that Richmond should have the benefit of modern conveniences as well as other cities her size, and as patrons are being compelled to pay a higher rate for service now they feel that they are entitled to the best that is. Anyway, there is no reason in the world why the telephone company should not give its patrons in Richmond and Madison county the same class of service that it does in other cities of this size.

The meeting of the Council with the telephone officials promises to be an interesting one, for the removal of the wires and poles from the main business streets will add greatly to the beauty of the city and it must be done before work starts on the permanent street paving.

LONDON HONORS INTREPID AIRMEN

Who Fly From Newfoundland To Ireland Without A Stop—
Tell of Several Close Calls

(By Associated Press)
London, June 16—London today celebrated the achievement of two British airmen who yesterday completed the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic, meanwhile preparing for a formal reception to the air victors, Captain John Alcock and Lieut. Arthur Brown. A formal examination of the Vickers-Vimy bombing type airplane, in which the men flew 1,650 nautical miles in 16 hours and 12 minutes, from St. John's, Newfoundland to Clifden, near Galway, Ireland, has been completed by two aero club officials who found the seals intact on the marked part of the airplane, thus officially establishing the authenticity of the flight.

Meanwhile the aviators, tired but happy, are on their way to London. Both are well. The biplane landed in a bog, badly damaged. The aviators encountered great dangers. Once they barely escaped plunging into the sea when the machine went into a flat spin.

Early in the flight a stay wire broke, a fact which Brown kept to himself. Alcock, after landing, said he would have turned back had he known it.

Meanwhile at an elevation of 11,000 feet, they passed through snow and sleet which stopped the working of some of their instruments, and covered the machine with ice, necessitating Brown clambering out on the fuselage to chop it away. A gale damaged the radio apparatus, and sleet stopped the petrol indicator while the weather permitted only three observations for laying their course.

Another Heavy Hail Storm

Boyle county had another experience with a terrific rain and hail storm Friday night. Madison has luckily so far escaped. The Danville Advocate says that about 8 o'clock Friday night a terrific hail storm accompanied by a downpour of rain of cloud-burst proportions, visited the Harrodsburg pike section about 3 miles from Danville. Mr. Hugh Coomer, of the firm of Coomer & Nave, visited the farm of Gentry Bros. and picked up a chunk of hail stones, four inches thick and brought the same to town so that people might see with their own eyes. This hail must have been a foot and a half thick last night as it had been melting for 12 hours before Mr. Coomer picked it up. The hail formed chunks of ice and attracted much attention when brought to town by Mr. Coomer. Great ponds of water are still standing in the fields. A wheat field on the Melrose farm, a field on Mr. Guy Hundley's farm and a field on Mr. A. E. completely ruined. A field of corn on the Gentry Bros. farm was chopped to pieces and in some places flooded.

He came here at the time Manager Rhodus assumed charge of the local hotel, and has made many friends here. Mr. Tudor was formerly with the J. D. Purcell Company, of Lexington, and is said to be splendidly qualified for the position he assumes.

THREE MADISON BOYS ON HONOR ROLL

Two Won Distinguished Service
Cross and One the Croix de
Guerre In Big War

The Kentucky Council of Defense made public Monday its list of Kentuckians who won special honors by reason of distinguished services in the war. The list is so far incomplete, it is understood, but as far as made up contains the names of several Madison county boys, Sergeant Henry Howard, of Valley View, Private James Lakes, of Kingston and Private Owen W. Hisle, of Richmond. The Courier-Journal contains a good picture of Private Lakes. Hisle won the Croix de Guerre and Lakes and Howard each won the Distinguished Service Cross. As the Croix de Guerre is a French decoration for bravery, the service done by Owen Hisle in winning it, is not given but the official citation for Lakes and Howard in winning Distinguished Service Cross are as follows:

Sergeant Henry Howard, Valley View, Ky.—Although seriously wounded during a bombardment near Septargues, September 27, 1918, he scattered his men and caused the company and battalion to retire behind a ridge in the rear. He then, with about fifteen men held the advanced position under continuous fire of machine guns, one-pounders and artillery until relieved the following day by another battalion. He insisted on remaining with his detachment until the commanding officer of the relieving battalion personally directed his evacuation. Mrs. Ella Witt, mother, Valley View, Ky.
Private James Lakes, Kingston, Ky.—Near Bellecourt, France, September 25, 1918, with eight other soldiers comprising the company headquarters detachment, Private Lakes advanced his company's command to a canal and capturing 24 prisoners. Home address, Mrs. Nellie Alexander, stepmother, Kingston, Ky.

Only two Kentucky men have received the Congressional Medal of Honor during the world war. These men are Lieut. Samuel Woodfill and Sergt. Willie Sandlin. It is awarded for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty." This medal is to an American military hero what the Victoria Cross is to an Englishman. The official citations are as follows:

By direction of the President under the provisions of the act of Congress, approved July 9, 1918, the medal of honor has been awarded, in the name of Congress, to the following named officer for the act of gallantry set after his name. Following is Gen. Pershing's cable recommendations, which have been approved:

First Lieut. Samuel Woodfill 60th Infantry—For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy at Cunel, France, October 12, 1918. While Lieut. Woodfill was leading his company against the enemy his line came under heavy machine gun fire, which threatened to hold up the advance. Followed by two soldiers at twenty-five yards this officer went out ahead of his first line toward a machine gun nest and worked his way around its flanks, leaving the two soldiers in front. When he got within ten yards of the gun it ceased firing and four of the enemy appeared, three of whom were shot by Lieut. Woodfill. The fourth, an officer, rushed at Lieut. Woodfill, who attempted to club the officer with his rifle. After a hand-to-hand struggle Lieut. Woodfill killed the officer with his pistol. His company thereupon continued to advance until shortly afterwards another machine gun nest was encountered. Calling on his men to follow Lieut. Woodfill rushed ahead of his line in the face of heavy fire from the nest, and when several of the enemy appeared above the nest he shot them, capturing three other members of the crew and silencing the gun. A few minutes later this officer for the third time demonstrated conspicuous daring by charging another machine gun position, killing five men in one machine gun pit with his rifle. He then drew his revolver and started to jump into the pit when two other gunners only a few yards away turned their gun on him. Failing to kill them with his revolver, he grabbed a pick lying near by and killed both of them. Inspired by the exceptional courage displayed by this officer, his men pressed on to their objective under severe shell and machine gun fire.

Home address, Mrs. Blossom Woodfill, 167 Alexandria pike, Fort Thomas, Ky.

Sergt. Willie Sandlin, Hyden, Ky.—By directions of the President, under the provisions of the act of Congress, approved July 9, 1918, the medal of honor has been awarded, in the name of Congress, to the following named enlisted man for the act of gallantry set after his name. Following is Gen. Pershing's cable recommendations, which have been approved.

Sergt. Willie Sandlin, Company A, 132nd Infantry. (A. S. No. 278108.) For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty with the enemy at Bois de Forges, France, September 26, 1918. Sergt. Sandlin showed conspicuous gallantry in action at Bois de Forges, France on September 26, by advancing alone directly on a machine gun nest which was holding up the line with its fire. He killed the crew with a grenade and enabled the line to advance. Later in the day Sergt. Sandlin attacked alone and put out of action two other machine-gun nests, setting a splendid example of bravery and coolness to his men.

The Facts Convert

Mr. Wickersham

George W. Wickersham, a republican and former United States Attorney General, went to Europe in December, an opponent and returned to this country, two months later, an advocate of a league of nations. What reversed his judgment is related by Mr. Wickersham in an interview with New York World. The whole story of this change of mind is summarized by Mr. Wickersham in his statement that "it wasn't argument which convinced him. It was a clear understanding of the facts."

These eloquent and compelling facts are that America's part in preserving and perpetuating peace is a corollary of her entering Europe to stop the recent war; that the people everywhere are yearning for some guarantee against a repetition of the horrors which they have faced for four years; that the defeat of their hopes in this respect is a provocative of anarchy and bolshevism, and, finally, that the only possible insurance against international conflict and internal chaos is a coalition of all nations—including our own—to restore and maintain concord throughout the world.

Before going to Europe, Mr. Wickersham says, he looked upon "the idea of a league of nations with skepticism." Two months' sojourn in England and France wrought a change of opinion, he says. "I feel sure that none of the leading opponents of the league of nations in America today could go through the same experience without undergoing a like conversion."

International order and the recognition of international law are steps toward peace, but they require sanction and enforcement such as can be given, Mr. Wickersham believes, only by an "alliance of all the nations sharing a common ideal, animated with a common purpose, who can trust each other."

"People everywhere are looking to America to give them that guarantee," Mr. Wickersham says.

President Wilson's earnest request to the country last fall to elect a Congress which would back him up and continue to maintain the prestige in America in the council of nations went unheeded by a thoughtless public, and now we're seeing the consequences and the mischief which a few partisan politicians who apparently care for nothing but the spoils of office, can do when they band together in the Senate. News comes from Paris that opposition to the League of Nations in the United States Senate is viewed there as a serious menace to the league. The general opinion is that President Wilson who has no supporters in the Senate and that the covenant will be revised so that America will not be able to become a member of the society of nations. This, they believe, will mean that the league will be a failure and that the future peace of the world will be menaced.

Yanks Send Money Home

With the American Army of Occupation, June 16—American soldiers in the occupied area of Germany have been sending home something like $30,000 a day, according to estimates made by postoffice officials. Army officers say that in addition to the money sent through the postoffice the soldiers also have been sending large amounts by banks and welfare organizations but estimates of this are virtually impossible to obtain.

London, June 16.—Meat-eating is injurious to the vitality of the race Dr. Josiah Oldfield, a London physician told the Fruitarian Society the other day. "In every country," he went on, "where meat-eating is a national habit the birth rate has decreased in the last fifty years. On the other hand, in countries like Bulgaria, Rumania and Serbia, where meat is not a national dietary, the birth rate is high and increasing."

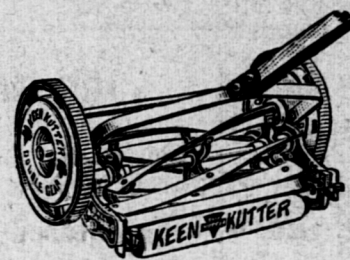

Experiments showed, he said, that meat-eating produced sterility. Eggs today, he remarked, were not as healthy as they should be because hens were overtaxed with egg-producing food, such as fish, blood and meat. He said that in his hospital care was taken that the eggs used were laid by fowls which fed naturally on grain or in the fields.

TALL BLUE GRASS
A few days ago a farmer of Iowa claimed to have raised the tallest bluegrass ever grown and sent some of the grass to the Drovers Journal at Chicago, Ill., claiming that Iowa could beat Kentucky in growing tall bluegrass and challenging them to beat his tallest grass which was 37 inches long. Weil Bros., of Fayette county answered the challenge and sent the Drovers Journal some grass that measured 40 inches long. Today Mr. Andy Wills, whose farm is located on the Spencer pike four miles east of Mt. Sterling, brought to this office and we now have it in the show window for the benefit of the public, bluegrass 55 inches long, so we now say to the gentlemen of Fayette county, if you want to raise the longest bluegrass come to Montgomery county and our friend, Andy Wills, will show you how the job is done.—Mt. Sterling Democrat.

DOUGLAS & SIMMONS

WILL GET NEWS OF BIG FIGHT BY ROUNDS

Much interest is being aroused in sporting and athletic circles over the Willard-Dempsey championship boxing match at Toledo, Ohio, July 4th. The Daily Register has just received advice from the Associated Press of which it is a member that news from the big fight for the championship will be furnished it in detail by rounds on the afternoon of Independence Day. The big battle begins at 3 p. m. Willard is within three pounds of the weight he expects to make for his heavyweight championship contest. The champion hoped the scales before his workout Sunday and tipped the beam at exactly 248 pounds, which is a pound and one-half lighter than he was when he won the championship from Jack Johnson at Harpers, Iowa, in 1915. Dempsey, on the other hand, is reported to be weighing about 245 pounds.

The champion went through the most bruising workout Sunday, he has attempted so far in his training. Between 2,000 and 2,500 persons paid 50 cents apiece to stand in the sun-baked arena, and the spectators snuggly sweltered while the giant Kansas exchanged punches with his sparring partners, tugged at the weights, wrestled and heaved the medicine ball. After Willard finished his workout, the crowd walked three quarters of a mile to Dempsey's camp, where the challenger risked further injury to his eye by boxing three rounds with the Jamaica kid, the negro light heavyweight, who opened the wound a week ago. Dempsey's sparring partner was careful not to shoot his punches too high and the challenger left the ring without further damage. Manager Kearns decided to have Dempsey box only because there were 1,500 persons crowded in the tent inclosure and he did not want to disappoint them.

LOCAL CONTRACTING FIRM EXPANDING

The firm of Boggs, Burnam and Co., composed of W. J. Sparks, of Mt. Vernon, and Joe S. Boggs and Sam P. Burnam, of this city, have purchased from S. English, of Lexington, the quarry, crushing machinery and equipment of the English Stone Company at Yellow Rock, and taken over the contract with the L. & N. railroad for crushed stone and ballast. Possession to be given July 1st. This is one of the largest and best equipped stone plants in the state and besides supplying all the crushed stone and ballast used by the 250 miles of track on the eastern Kentucky Division, handles a considerable volume of commercial business as well, and in the hands of the above firm should prove a fine investment, and one that will fit in well with their contracting activities.

Dates set for the Montgomery county fair are July 23-26. There will be trotting and pacing races and three running races each day.

SHAKERTOWN FARM AVERAGES ABOUT $182

The old Castleman farm, at Shakertown, seven miles north of Harrodsburg, in Mercer county, was sold at public auction, by Bolivar Bond, and Buckley, who recently bought it from P. L. Neale Saturday. The handsome farm was divided into three tracts. The home place with the house, and containing 137 acres was bought by Hedge Lester, of Lexington at $186 an acre. The corner tract of 79 acres was bought by Harney, of Shelby county, at $236 an acre; and the third tract, of 90 acres was bought by C. M. Ballard, of the Burgin section at $130 an acre. Mr. Ballard is said to own some land adjoining the tract he bought. Reports are that another hotel or inn is to be opened at Shakertown by the parties who bought the home place. Shakertown Inn, conducted by Mrs. Nannie Jewell Embury and Mrs. Sallie Johnson Burgin, of Lexington, is doing a flourishing business and becoming quite a summer resort as these ladies have made it famous for its old-fashioned southern cooking, such as old ham, fried chickens, biscuits, hot waffles etc.

WHEAT SMUT COSTS

THE FARMERS' $600,000
Approximately $600,000 will be lost to the farmers of Kentucky this year on account of wheat smut, it is stated by Prof. Frank T. McFarland, assistant professor in botany at the University of Kentucky, who is assisting in conducting a campaign to control its spread. Professor McFarland is working in Harrodsburg, Fayette, Bourbon and Boyle counties and he stated in some fields in this county he had found the insecticide in wheat run as high as 25 per cent. The average for the state is 14 per cent.

Now, government representatives are doing similar work in the West, and part of the State and as soon as it has been ascertained where the smut is the most prevalent, a series of lectures and demonstrations on the control of smut will be given. These lectures will start at Harrodsburg, Professor McFarland has just completed a survey of the State for the new disease "black rot," which is proving dangerous in some places and has not been seen in Kentucky.

A New Cattle Feeding Method

A peculiar case came to light through an indictment brought in by the Lincoln county grand jury, recently in session. A young farmer, south of Stanford, had been keeping a number of cattle on a small tract of land, but always had them in good shape. He was indicted for turning in his cattle into a neighbor's pasture after dark, allowing them to graze all night and driving them back into his own lot before daylight. The neighbor is said to have been tipped off to the game, and to have caught the man red-handed, with a pair of pliers taking down a fence to turn his cattle in.

McCombs Road Oil

"From the time of the Roman Caesars it has been recognized that prosperity follows good roads."

THE high cost of material and the shortage of labor put a premium upon the preservation of present equipment; and for the preservation of good roads a gallon of oil is worth a bushel of labor.

Imperative demands of the war period have prevented adequate road maintenance, improvement and extension. The immense transportation problem of reconstruction requires that the arteries of traffic be kept in good condition.

Roads well oiled last indefinitely. A well-oiled road is impervious to the destructive forces of nature and offers adequate resistance to the wear and tear of heavy traffic.
